

Mapping Christopher Winter Project Curriculum to Statutory Guidance

Non – statutory Sex Education
10a	The Department continues to recommend therefore that all primary schools should have a sex education programme tailored to the age and the physical and emotional maturity of the pupils. It should ensure that both boys and girls are prepared for the changes that adolescence brings and – drawing on knowledge of the human life cycle set out in the national curriculum for science - how a baby is conceived and born. As well as consulting parents more generally about the school’s overall policy, primary schools should consult parents before the final year of primary school about the detailed content of what will be taught	This resource forms a spiralling curriculum of Relationships and Sex Education. We feel that on the whole the Sex Education element of the resource is in line with the science curriculum. Lessons on puberty form part of statutory Health Education. The exception would be sessions in year 6 which include age appropriate discussions on adult sexuality and how a baby is conceived and born. Parents would need to be given the right to excuse their children from these lessons.

RSE and the Law

The Education Act 2002 sets out the statutory duties which all schools, including academies, are required to meet: ‘Every state-funded school must offer a curriculum which is balanced and broadly based and which:

- promotes the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of pupils at the school and of society
- prepares pupils at the school for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of later life’

The DfE released statutory guidance in June 2019 under sections 34 and 35 of the Children and Social Work Act 2017. The guidance covers Relationships and Sex Education (RSE), Relationships Education and Health Education. This new guidance replaces the DfE Sex and Relationships Education Guidance from 2000.

The statutory guidance will become mandatory in September 2020. Schools not already delivering a programme of PSHE including RSE are advised to start following it from 2019. The expectations on schools are as follows:

- Relationships Education will be compulsory in all primary schools (or those pupils receiving primary education) – this includes academies, free schools and independent schools
- Relationships and Sex Education will be compulsory in all secondary schools (or those pupils receiving secondary education) – this includes academies, free schools and independent schools
- Health Education will be compulsory in all primary and secondary schools (or those pupils receiving primary or secondary education) – this includes all academies and free schools but not independent schools as PSHE is already statutory in these schools
