

Elmgrove celebrated VE Day, learning about why it is celebrated and why we should be so grateful for those who fought and lost their lives so we can have our freedom today. Each year group carried out different activities to pay tribute to those special women and men who served during the wars by reading poems and stories such as 'Where The Poppies Now Grow' by Hilary Robinson & Martin Impey & 'In Flanders Fields' by John McCrae. We were fortunate enough to sit down as a whole school in the hall to have an online assembly by a historian from the Harrow and Wealdstone Museum. The children learnt lots of facts about WWI & WWII. Our celebrations ended with a traditional picnic that consisted of cucumber sandwiches, scones and jam.
